nutrateric®

Nutritional Enteric Coating

Unique delayed release coating system to add value and functionality for stronger consumer appeal.

Delayed release coatings are a convenient and effective way to improve consumer appeal to dietary supplement products by reducing unpleasant flavors and odors, enhancing the stability of natural ingredients and improving product performance.

Nutrateric™ is an aqueous enteric coating system designed specifically to meet the regulatory requirements for dietary supplement, nutritional and herbal products. Tablets and capsules can be easily coated using standard processing equipment with reliable and reproducible enteric protection.

Approved for Food Use

- Meets the regulatory requirements for dietary supplement, nutritional and herbal products in Europe, and North America regions
- Composed of ingredients that are approved food additives or have self-affirmed GRAS status

Build a preferred brand image and stand out from the competition.

Reliable and Reproducible Performance

- Fully aqueous coating system which is simple to prepare and apply
- Optimized for use on tablets and soft gelatin capsules
- Meets dietary supplement enteric disintegration requirements
- Backed by world class technical service and manufacturing of Colorcon

Cost Effective Technology

- Enteric protection can be achieved at low levels of coating
- Fast application using standard processing equipment
- Reduced raw material inventory and testing requirements

Adds Value to Your Product

- Delayed release differentiates your product in a competitive marketplace
- Enhanced functionality enables premium positioning
- Consumer appeal through product presentation and performance
